Snug Hollow Farm

A Kentucky Bed & Breakfast

Hello from the holler!

Spring has come to Snug Hollow and you are invited to witness the showy spectacle of wildflowers, redbuds, dogwoods and forest colors forgotten during the long cold winter. Enjoy the warm sunny days perfect for hiking the new trails, bird watching at its best and you've got to love those peepers screaming to herald the coming of the season.

Ta Da! ... Announcing the NEW Snug Hollow website!!
www.snughollow.com Please check us out.

Thanks to Paul Wagner, Chris Pugh, James McWhorter and my friend, Bill Snapp. A special thanks to travel writer, Frances Figart.

The beauty, functionality and the glory of the end result goes to a most capable web designer, Lisa Vaughn of Gladiator Law Marketing. She was willing to sit with me and listen, listen, listen. I like to think our collaboration was "where art meets smart."

Spring/summer lunches are served on the screened porch, fun for any group and a true garden to table affair. Call for your reservation, visit the garden, take a walk or sit on the porch and enjoy after lunch coffee or tea.

We may not be on the bourbon trail...
but we've got wild turkeys!
